

Dr King MB BS FChSHM is an internationally acclaimed sex therapist, educator and author with over 30 years of clinical experience. Dr King is well known for her work in the media over many years in TV, radio and the print media. She lectures and runs workshops within Australia and internationally for medical professionals, corporations and the lay public.

Dr King graduated from the medical faculty at the University of New South Wales in Sydney in 1976, and worked in general practice for 12 years before specialising in sex and relationship therapy. Dr King is the author of the best-selling book Good Loving Great Sex and her new book for women with low libido Where did my libido go? has recently been released. .

Dr King is a Fellow of the Royal Australasian College of Physicians in the Sexual Health Medicine Chapter. She is a past president of ASSERT (Australian Society of Sexual Educators, Researchers and Therapists). In 2002 Dr King was honoured with the International Society of Sex and Impotence Research 20th anniversary award for her work in raising global awareness of sexual issues.

ASSERT NSW Education meeting

Title: Where did my libido go?

Date: Tuesday 27 July 2010

Time: 6.30 for 7.00pm

Location: Albion Street Centre, cnr. Albion and Crown streets, Surry Hills, Sydney.